Each session costs £5 per child (with a discounted £3 per session for each subsequent child – eg twin / sibling). Siblings under 18 months are welcome to come along (free of charge) to watch and absorb what's going on – and maybe 'help' their brother or sister!

Fees are rounded up and paid at the start of each term – eg. A 10 week term would cost £50. We don't normally break for half-term, although we do take a break at Christmas and Easter. We also run summer workshops for those who are interested.

For new starters: there is a registration fee of £10. Please pay this when sending back your registration form in order to confirm your place. This fee also covers your child's branded T-shirt and apron (which we'll give you on the first day of term).

Please make all cheques payable to Toddler Chef.

Please read our terms and conditions (below) and sign and date at the bottom to indicate you are in agreement with these:

I would like to register my child(ren) to join Toddler Chef. I understand it is my responsibility to stay with my child(ren) during sessions and ensure their safety and well-being. I accept that Toddler Chef cannot be held responsible for loss or damage to personal property whilst at a session. I also understand that Toddler Chef Leaders are not necessarily qualified nutritionists and in this case the advice they give is based solely on their own opinion, experience and knowledge – though this is always with the best intent. In the case of a child having a serious eating disorder or displaying disruptive food refusal, where the child's behaviour is unsettling or in any way to the detriment of the rest of the group, the Toddler Chef leader may advise that the child is not ready for Toddler Chef and the parent / carer should seek advice from their local Health Visitor– in which case a full refund will be given. Toddler Chef cannot guarantee 100% that ingredients and food-stuffs used in sessions are totally free from nuts (or exposure to nuts) although they will do their best to advise, where appropriate. In the unlikely event a class is cancelled, you will receive a full refund. We cannot however give refunds if you are unable to attend a session. A term's notice is required if you wish to withdraw your child. We reserve the right to change location should this be necessary. Please do not attend if you or your child is ill – this is particularly important if they or you have diarrhoea, a stomach bug or have been vomiting. Parents and carers will be prompted but are ultimately responsible for their child's hygiene whilst handling food. If dishes are brought home for cooking or heating, Toddler Chef cannot be held responsible for the way this is undertaken – or for any misdemeanour in the kitchen or subsequent illness. Please always take note and heed the advice given in sessions. All Toddler Chef Leaders are CRB Police checked and are covered by standard Public Liability Insurances. Please do not take photographs or film during sessions unless the Leader asks and obtains permission from other parents / carers.

We ask that at all times you are respectful towards other parents / carers and their children and eating habits – remember, we're in this together!
